

DENI YANG / ARTIST

Deni Yang, a world-renowned bubble artist, has spent most of his young life merging the worlds of entertainment, art, and science to create a world-famous bubble show. Born into a family of bubble performers, Deni followed in the footsteps of his parents, Fan and Ana Yang, and has mesmerized audiences worldwide with his astonishing performances.

At just four years old, Deni made his live debut on Italian TV, captivating millions of viewers across Europe. Since then, Deni has taken his incredible stage show worldwide, performing at prestigious venues such as the National Museum of Science and Technology and the Pacific Science Centre (Seattle, WA).

His talents have also been showcased on numerous television programs worldwide with Hollywood mega fans stars like Tom Cruise, Emily Blunt, Oprah, Ellen Degeneres, Chris Rock, Jay Leno, and countless more.

Today, Deni and his sister Melody travel the globe, showcasing their bubble expertise with audiences young and old, transforming the art of bubble-making into an unforgettable display of pure joy and entertainment.

Don't miss your chance to witness this spectacular celebration of bubbles, science, and family fun at the Gazillion Bubble Show.
